

ABSTRACT

[0055] A method of searching a plurality of content repositories, comprising providing for the representation of the plurality of content repositories as a virtual content repository (VCR), searching the VCR for information that satisfies a search expression, providing search results, and wherein the VCR includes a common content model and namespace.